

A Note from the Editor...

My daughter graduated high school the month of June and the valedictorian was a young girl from Russia that only moved to America 7 years ago. She learned to speak English and graduated with a 5.5 GPA. She's off to do humanitarian work in poverty stricken countries. During her speech you could hear a pin drop. After her speech the applause went on for days. She spoke of success and who is more successful the student who has money, status, a family that supports them emotionally and graduates at the top of their class or the student that has to work 2 jobs after school, whose family does not support them emotionally or financially and graduates at the bottom of their class. As Abraham Lincoln once said "Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is more important than any one thing." To the millions of parents who have daughters or sons that just graduated this lovely month of June, I Congratulate You on the achievement of making it this far. Good Going and have an adventurous, mind-blowing summer! See you in the fall.....

Happy 4th of July!!

The Most Intuitive Claims Software on the Market...

The JDi Data flagship "Claims Manager®" has had its browser based version of workers' compensation running for over a year now. Clients love using the web access, as there is no software maintenance required on the workstations. So what's next? Now comes the recently completed P & C portion in its new ".net" format, right there alongside of Workers Compensation, same database, same program. We kicked it off with our first data conversion which included GL and Commercial Auto for the Dekalb County School System in Atlanta, Georgia. All of their risk management data is now housed in CLAIMS MANAGER®.

Now that the testing and deployment is finished, we will begin upgrading all of our current clients from our previous production system, originally introduced in 1995. While the functionality is the same, we tried to keep the user interface as friendly as possible and as close to the old one so the upgrading would be seamless. We still have the same security encryption, the same ISO reporting capability and all the functions previously found in our soon to be retired legacy system. The .net technology is awesome and allows complete support and maintenance enhancements which are sure to save help desk and support departments hours of labor. Call us for a demo and let us know what you think of our new release.

16th Annual West Coast Construction Defect Seminar...

"Ethics and Civility in CD Litigation: A Look at Negotiations and Trials Through the Lens of Ethics and Civility"

Hats off to Justice Nancy Saitta, Tom Lincoln, Esq., Lisa Mersereau, Esq., and our host WCC Dave Stern. Applause to the Award Winning Actors! This discussion applies to all of us and reminds us of the practices, morality, ethics and integrity expected. Bravo!

Department News

Our 1st Annual Kayak trip was a huge success. I am happy to report that there were no boats that flipped, no gators that attacked although there were several iguanas that decided to dive from the trees into the water as the kayaker's kayaked by, if I didn't know any better it was as though the iguanas were trying to dive into the boats, but that's silly. We stopped for lunch and a well deserving rest then back to the boats. When it was all said and done and 7.5 miles later we arrived back to our destination from whence we started. All and all it was a glorious "living in paradise" day.
